

LOUISIANA ASSOCIATION OF
PROFESSIONAL AUCTIONEERS

August 9, 2014

MR FRANK J BESSON JR., CHAIRMAN
LSP RETIREMENT BOARD
P O BOX 66614
BATON ROUGE LA 70896-6614

Dear Mr. Besson:

As you are aware, I recently created the website www.lspripoff.com to chronical the entirety of the now-infamous "Edmondson amendment." As of the time I'm composing this letter, the most recent entry is August 7, 2014, and it entails a blog post by Mr. C. B. Forgotston in which you have been named as one of the five (5) members who is not acquiescing to calling a special meeting for the purpose of discussing litigating the issue in order to have the matter resolved once and for all via a declaratory judgment from 19th JDC rendering the law unconstitutional.

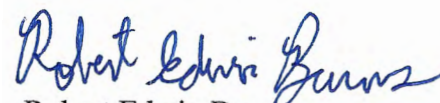

I want to make an invitation to you that I hope you will take me up on. I live only five (5) minutes from the LSPRB headquarters. I am willing to meet all five of you either individually or in however large of group you may desire (aside from all five of you at once since that would constitute a quorum and violate open meetings laws), and I will videotape whatever you would like to say on the whole matter. I also promise to you that I will not edit out one second of any video(s). You will be able to speak your peace on any aspect of this whole matter uninterrupted for as long (or as short) as you may desire. You also have my word that I will upload the video and place it at the very top of the new webpage so that visitors see it before they see anything else on the website.

At the July 16, 2014 meeting, Treasurer Kennedy said (among other items he was seeking to uncover), "We need to find out who offered the amendment, and why." I submit that, at this time, we need to find out who is resisting litigating the matter (perhaps Mr. Forgotston inaccurately portrayed your stand), and why. It's my sincere hope you will take me up on my offer. If so, just contact me via any means on this letter, and I'll be more than happy to meet you at the LSPRB headquarters in the boardroom (obviously coordinating with Mr. Felps on an acceptable date and time) and fulfill my promise as communicated to you in this letter.

Thanks, and I look forward to hearing back from you in coming days.

Cc: Irwin Felps, C. B. Forgotston

Sincerely,

Robert Edwin Burns

LOUISIANA ASSOCIATION OF
PROFESSIONAL AUCTIONEERS

August 9, 2014

MR KEVIN P MARCEL, VICE CHAIRMAN
LSP RETIREMENT BOARD
272 BRENTWOOD AVE
HOUMA LA 70360-7178

Dear Mr. Marcel:

As you are aware, I recently created the website www.lspripoff.com to chronical the entirety of the now-infamous "Edmondson amendment." As of the time I'm composing this letter, the most recent entry is August 7, 2014, and it entails a blog post by Mr. C. B. Forgotston in which you have been named as one of the five (5) members who is not acquiescing to calling a special meeting for the purpose of discussing litigating the issue in order to have the matter resolved once and for all via a declaratory judgment from 19th JDC rendering the law unconstitutional.

I want to make an invitation to you that I hope you will take me up on. I live only five (5) minutes from the LSPRB headquarters. I am willing to meet all five of you either individually or in however large of group you may desire (aside from all five of you at once since that would constitute a quorum and violate open meetings laws), and I will videotape whatever you would like to say on the whole matter. I also promise to you that I will not edit out one second of any video(s). You will be able to speak your peace on any aspect of this whole matter uninterrupted for as long (or as short) as you may desire. You also have my word that I will upload the video and place it at the very top of the new webpage so that visitors see it before they see anything else on the website.

At the July 16, 2014 meeting, Treasurer Kennedy said (among other items he was seeking to uncover), "We need to find out who offered the amendment, and why." I submit that, at this time, we need to find out who is resisting litigating the matter (perhaps Mr. Forgotston inaccurately portrayed your stand), and why. It's my sincere hope you will take me up on my offer. If so, just contact me via any means on this letter, and I'll be more than happy to meet you at the LSPRB headquarters in the boardroom (obviously coordinating with Mr. Felps on an acceptable date and time) and fulfill my promise as communicated to you in this letter.

Thanks, and I look forward to hearing back from you in coming days.

Cc: Irwin Felps, C. B. Forgotston

Sincerely,

Robert Edwin Burns

LOUISIANA ASSOCIATION OF
PROFESSIONAL AUCTIONEERS

August 9, 2014

MR CARLIE DUPUY
LSP RETIREMENT BOARD
P O BOX 66614
BATON ROUGE LA 70896-6614

Dear Mr. Dupuy:

As you are aware, I recently created the website www.lspripoff.com to chronical the entirety of the now-infamous “Edmondson amendment.” As of the time I’m composing this letter, the most recent entry is August 7, 2014, and it entails a blog post by Mr. C. B. Forgotston in which you have been named as one of the five (5) members who is not acquiescing to calling a special meeting for the purpose of discussing litigating the issue in order to have the matter resolved once and for all via a declaratory judgment from 19th JDC rendering the law unconstitutional.

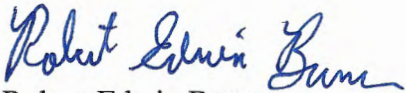

I want to make an invitation to you that I hope you will take me up on. I live only five (5) minutes from the LSPRB headquarters. I am willing to meet all five of you either individually or in however large of group you may desire (aside from all five of you at once since that would constitute a quorum and violate open meetings laws), and I will videotape whatever you would like to say on the whole matter. I also promise to you that I will not edit out one second of any video(s). You will be able to speak your peace on any aspect of this whole matter uninterrupted for as long (or as short) as you may desire. You also have my word that I will upload the video and place it at the very top of the new webpage so that visitors see it before they see anything else on the website.

At the July 16, 2014 meeting, Treasurer Kennedy said (among other items he was seeking to uncover), “We need to find out who offered the amendment, and why.” I submit that, at this time, we need to find out who is resisting litigating the matter (perhaps Mr. Forgotston inaccurately portrayed your stand), and why. It’s my sincere hope you will take me up on my offer. If so, just contact me via any means on this letter, and I’ll be more than happy to meet you at the LSPRB headquarters in the boardroom (obviously coordinating with Mr. Felps on an acceptable date and time) and fulfill my promise as communicated to you in this letter.

Thanks, and I look forward to hearing back from you in coming days.

Cc: Irwin Felps, C. B. Forgotston

Sincerely,

Robert Edwin Burns

LOUISIANA ASSOCIATION OF
PROFESSIONAL AUCTIONEERS

August 9, 2014

MR THURMAN MILLER
LSP RETIREMENT BOARD
POST OFFICE BOX 66464
BATON ROUGE LA 70896-6464

Dear Mr. Miller:

As you are aware, I recently created the website www.lspripoff.com to chronical the entirety of the now-infamous "Edmondson amendment." As of the time I'm composing this letter, the most recent entry is August 7, 2014, and it entails a blog post by Mr. C. B. Forgetston in which you have been named as one of the five (5) members who is not acquiescing to calling a special meeting for the purpose of discussing litigating the issue in order to have the matter resolved once and for all via a declaratory judgment from 19th JDC rendering the law unconstitutional.

I want to make an invitation to you that I hope you will take me up on. I live only five (5) minutes from the LSPRB headquarters. I am willing to meet all five of you either individually or in however large of group you may desire (aside from all five of you at once since that would constitute a quorum and violate open meetings laws), and I will videotape whatever you would like to say on the whole matter. I also promise to you that I will not edit out one second of any video(s). You will be able to speak your peace on any aspect of this whole matter uninterrupted for as long (or as short) as you may desire. You also have my word that I will upload the video and place it at the very top of the new webpage so that visitors see it before they see anything else on the website.

At the July 16, 2014 meeting, Treasurer Kennedy said (among other items he was seeking to uncover), "We need to find out who offered the amendment, and why." I submit that, at this time, we need to find out who is resisting litigating the matter (perhaps Mr. Forgetston inaccurately portrayed your stand), and why. It's my sincere hope you will take me up on my offer. If so, just contact me via any means on this letter, and I'll be more than happy to meet you at the LSPRB headquarters in the boardroom (obviously coordinating with Mr. Felps on an acceptable date and time) and fulfill my promise as communicated to you in this letter.

Thanks, and I look forward to hearing back from you in coming days.

Cc: Irwin Felps, C. B. Forgetston

Sincerely,

Robert Edwin Burns

LOUISIANA ASSOCIATION OF
PROFESSIONAL AUCTIONEERS

August 9, 2014

MR STEPHEN LAFARGUE
LSP RETIREMENT BOARD
805 MAIN ST
LAKE CHARLES LA 70615-5063

Dear Mr. Lafargue:

As you are aware, I recently created the website www.lspripoff.com to chronical the entirety of the now-infamous "Edmondson amendment." As of the time I'm composing this letter, the most recent entry is August 7, 2014, and it entails a blog post by Mr. C. B. Forgetston in which you have been named as one of the five (5) members who is not acquiescing to calling a special meeting for the purpose of discussing litigating the issue in order to have the matter resolved once and for all via a declaratory judgment from 19th JDC rendering the law unconstitutional.

I want to make an invitation to you that I hope you will take me up on. I live only five (5) minutes from the LSPRB headquarters. I am willing to meet all five of you either individually or in however large of group you may desire (aside from all five of you at once since that would constitute a quorum and violate open meetings laws), and I will videotape whatever you would like to say on the whole matter. I also promise to you that I will not edit out one second of any video(s). You will be able to speak your peace on any aspect of this whole matter uninterrupted for as long (or as short) as you may desire. You also have my word that I will upload the video and place it at the very top of the new webpage so that visitors see it before they see anything else on the website.

At the July 16, 2014 meeting, Treasurer Kennedy said (among other items he was seeking to uncover), "We need to find out who offered the amendment, and why." I submit that, at this time, we need to find out who is resisting litigating the matter (perhaps Mr. Forgetston inaccurately portrayed your stand), and why. It's my sincere hope you will take me up on my offer. If so, just contact me via any means on this letter, and I'll be more than happy to meet you at the LSPRB headquarters in the boardroom (obviously coordinating with Mr. Felps on an acceptable date and time) and fulfill my promise as communicated to you in this letter.

Thanks, and I look forward to hearing back from you in coming days.

Cc: Irwin Felps, C. B. Forgetston

Sincerely,

Robert Edwin Burns